

Nabeal Twereet

Nabeal is an experienced writing teacher and editor. Since graduating from UCLA, he has been working as a writer and legal journalist for mainstream media and websites. He enjoys interviewing athletes as well as high-profile attorneys and celebrities from all parts of the United States. For over 12 years, he has published thousands of essays in newspaper, magazines, and other media. This makes him an expert in writing for publication.

Majoring in History and Creative Writing, Nabeal devoted himself to teaching students to write proficiently and professionally. He encourages group discussion, peer feedback, and critical thinking in his lessons. He is experienced at helping students brainstorm ideas, search and collect information, and organize what to write. Nabeal believes that the only way to improve and polish your writing is to practice each day. Whether it's typing behind a computer or by lifting a pen and jotting your ideas on paper, everyone could benefit from refining their writing. He is also a language, history and writing tutor for IvyMax students. He can easily find student problems, and provides individualized lessons according to student needs. With his knowledge and quality of patience, he is one of the most popular teacher among IvyMax students.
